Thur there is only half of the amount that was expected and consequently the problem to be faced is what to cilminate from the original proposal and what to retain. There are three apparent courses to choose from One is to cut the number of centers and the work proposed, squarely in half for this year. The second is to obtain shough inore of an appropriation from the new administration to carry out the estimal scheme, or to me the fund in hand for the summer were and petition the board of school vinerases to "trend the Tarry plan of school organization; to enough the rehealth in cover the plan problem in this manner.

I believe in El Paso. My faith is founded on her past record, present standing and future

"probabilities."

There is no better city in the United States for home or business. Anyone interested can get statistics and proof of this at the Chamber of Commerce or at our office. For instance the growth of the past ten years has been steady and substantial, no "Phenomenal Boom" resulting in final depression; we stand today the marvel of the financial world; El Paso is clean morally. Real estate value is the GREAT BAROMETER of a community. Real estate values were not shattered last August. Advance on the contrary was the experience here. El Paso is in her stride, with optimism and confidence on every hand. James L, Marr
